Storm.

THE TEXAS CROP OUTLOOK

showing a good deal of irregularity, although the absence of weakness was apparent even on declines. Liverpool spot sales of 20,000 bales came in for considerable comment, although it is generally believed that big exportations from the English stocks are largely responsible for the big business now being put through. The spurt at the opening put through. The spurt at the opening in Liverpool was ascribed to the foreign exchange situation and most of the advance was lost before the New York opening.

Shorts were again scared in mid-ession by the announcement from the Washington Weather Bureau that storm warnings had been posted along the Atlantic coast with indications of a Caribbean disturbance of great inten-This advance disappeared as a result of the statement from the local weather bureau to the effect that noth-ing was known there about the matter. Sentiment is bearish among the trade veterans and bulls seem to be pinning their faith to an expected outburst of e speculation, owing to renewed terest in cotton.

Trade advices are much more satis factory than they have been. Yarn dealers report a good business and the cotton goods markets are showing health and broadness. Bleached goods are dededly firm and colored goods are ac the and stronger.

A letter from a Fort Worth, Tex., spot firm has the following to say in regard to the outlook in that State:

"It is quite true that a perfect flood of had reports began to come in about last Tuesday. Previous to that the gen-eral impression had been that the Texas rains would add to the crop. The plant then began to look as if its vitality pre-vious to the storm had been overesti-mated, and following the high winds and torrential rains it seemed to sim-ply lie down and give up. It was this condition which caused the great change In Texas advices of the past week. However, most men who looked the crop over again during the last two s are much less pessimistic, but improvement is all in the future, and I am now of the opinion that the Texas condition of three weeks ago was really much worse than we had been led to believe.

The late cotton will do well unless there is an early frost. If the frost date is early there will be a very marked change in the final result, much more o than is usually the case."

THE SUGAR MARKET.

Raw Easter-Refined Quiet-Futures Prices Irregular.

The raw sugar market was quiet yesterday and continued easier.
Prompt Cubas were offered down to 4.64 cents, but refiners could not be 4.64 cents, but refiners could not be induced to enter the market. In the absence of sales spot quotations were purely nominal. Cubas were quoted at 4.77 cents and Porto Ricos at 4.58 cents. The refined sugar market was quiet both as regards withdrawals and new business. The Arbuckle refinery advanced its quotation for Cubas to 6 cents. Otherwise refined prices showed no charge. no change.

The sugar futures market at the Cof-fee Exchange was quiet, with prices ir-regular. The near positions were easier in sympathy with lower offerings of spot, while the more distant deliveries were relatively steady.

"A Milking Pool."

Speculators in the ordnance stocks have made a good deal of money as a rule, but most of those who have had anything to do with the Aetna Explosives shares are saying hard things about them. These are the only ord-nance shares in which outsiders have nance shares in which obtainers have not been successful and it is asserted that the market has been so handled that they could not. The stocks have gone up with the others, but as soon as a considerable outside following was attracted all bids would be filled up promptly and the market would deline sharply. Then, when it was around million or so stock to be underwritten by a banking syndicate. Some irasel-ble speculators go so far as to say that a regular "milking pool" has been in operation. It is possible, however, that the company's method of acquiring new plants by making payment therefor in stock has something to do with the way the market has been filled tively optimistic remarks upon dividend prospects. The stock jumped 2½ points on heavy trading and then, when it seemed as if it could not be stopped, quieted down. A portion of the gain was retained at the close. Third Avenue stock is not popular with the speculative element now active in the Street. For one thing the present speculative parts, went down with its entire cargo. one thing the present speculative party wants action and plenty of it. Third Avenue might easily rise to 75 in the course of the next year, but Well Street.

Electric Storage Battery stock, which made its bow on the Stock Exchange on Wednesday, had an active day of it yesterday. It started off with a rush yesterday morning, advancing 7 points and eventually closing 5½ points up. Storage Battery has been listed on the Eastern Steel Company had booked an order for 16,000 tons. It was reported that the Stock Exchange for a long time, but the market in later years has been in Philadelphia. Like a number of other issues, however, the market in it was transplanted to New York, where the speculative opportunities are larger. The story accompanying the rise was that the company would be absorbed by the boat company. This report was denied by the boat company. merican Exchange Bank Issues Symposium of Conditions.

The American Exchange National The American Exchange National Bank has just issued a symposium on business and trade conditions in the United States. The facts obtained by the bank are the result of a thorough canvass in every section of the country and tend to show that business is generally better. It is stated that the manufacture of war munitions is confined to comparatively few localities, but the decomparatively few localities, but the de-mand for this class of goods has stimulated industry to a considerable extent all over the country.

As a result of the war, the bank says, and Rutgers Fire Insurance Company and the Insurance Company of Pennsylvania will, it is expected, bring a decision of the question of whether the damage done to a merchant vessile being the damage meets with an accident while being an increasing rate.

Summing up the consensus of opinions received, the bank circular says:
"Taking the country as a whole, it is in a prosperous condition. There is convincing testimony as to this in all most every report from which we quote It looks as though we will continue gradually into better times. The distribution of the money received from abroad covers a great range of territory our farms, mines and forests have all been drawn upon to supply the needed material. People in all parts of the country must share in the profits de-
